

Host Shelley Duffy and Jerry Potts, a supervisor with The Whale's Tale, and Charles Williams, a resident at the shelter, talked about the program called Project Safe Place, sponsored by B-94, designed to help kids find a place to go.

Host Shelley Duffy and Jim Trelease, author of Read Aloud Handbooks, talked about why it's so important for parents to read aloud to their kids, he explains how to do it.

Host Shelley Duffy and Kathy McCoy, author of a column in Seventeen Magazine, talked about a "Junior High Survival Guide"--teaching how to handle the problems of dating, sex, and drugs in schools.

Host Shelley Duffy and Rose Palmer-Phelps, from the group Support, a network for children of divorce, talks about the group and why children do need it. Child support week is the week of September 18th.

Host Shelley Duffy and Sgt. Glenn Young talked about a safety program for kids, including the K.I.D. Car (Kids in Danger) which teaches kids to alert the right people in times of danger and how to avoid danger.

Host Shelley Duffy and Vincent Doran described the Pittsburgh Job Corps, telling how teens can find good jobs by getting the experience.

Host Shelley Duffy and author Richard Stack talked about his new children's book "The Doggonest Christmas" that helps encourage self esteem in children.

Host Shelley Duffy and author of "Here's Looking at You Kids," Hugh O'Neil, talked about Father's Day, the family, and how mom and dad can find time for romance.

Host Shelley Duffy and guest discussed "Safety and Kids:" what parents or adults should be concerned with.

Host Shelley Duffy and the author of "Talk Sex" Sue Johanson talked about how teens should approach sexuality, how parents can also learn how to talk about sensitive subjects with their children to help them make important, wise decisions.

Rebroadcast of 5/11/91 show aired at 7:30.

Rebroadcast of the show aired on 3/2/91 at 7:00.

News

Captain Terese Rocco, Head of Missing Persons, Pittsburgh Police Department, updated listeners on local missing persons. Thinks kids who are still missing after a number of years will never show up.

Cecile Hecker of the Coalition To Protect Children, is one of many parents concerned about Pittsburgh School Board decision to further study idea of establishing community based health care clinics for local high school students.

Citiparks spokesperson Mary Aliberti talked about the new program started for teens called Reach A Person Program to talk to teens about problems such as drugs, alcohol abuse, pregnancy, and the importance of staying in school.

Danny Webb, Charleston, West Virginia City Councilman, wants to start rating music concerts with an "embarrassment" rating after two heavy metal shows almost got out of hand.

Dorn CHeckney, PA Coalition Against Pornography, stressed his group does not support a PA bill adding $10 fee for anyone who wishes access to any 976 numbers. Groups wants to see establishment of access code to cut juvenile use of porno lines.

Dr. Mary Margaret Keer, Services for Teenagers At Risk, explained organization's purpose.

Ed Traversari of DiCesare Engler talked about how the Central Blood Bank has kicked off its blood drive by involving teens.

Kay Sauter of the Cult Awareness Network of Pittsburgh, said that cults are alive and well, documented by the fact that she once rescued her son from The Way. She said group get about 1,000 calls each year.

Mike Glabecki, organizer of Youth Cry, discussed organization's founding, spread, possible effectiveness with legislators. Stated that money spent on Nicaraguan conflict would be better spent here at home.

Peter Gultch of Kids Day 1987 discussed activities for first annual Kids Day celebration. It's a free celebration for kids and their parents.

Pittsburgh Planned Parenthood Reps and McGee Women's hospital detailed week's activities relating to teen pregnancy week. Speakers scheduled at area schools along with skits and programs; they want to convince teens to wait to become parents.

Rowdy Gaines, 1984 Olympic Gold Medalist, announced that nationwide they need to raise millions. It costs about $500,000/day to send our athletes to the Olympics.

Tom Lyon, State Police Spokesman, discussed a new crackdown on underage drinking, the new penalties in effect for any one under 21, and also for those who sell to minors.

Pittsburgh Opinion

Are there a lot of places in Pittsburgh that serve under age drinkers

Are we doing enough to help locate missing kids

Children: What issues most concern you

Do kids watch too much television

Do you agree with parental consent laws for teens who want to have an abortion

Do you believe that song lyrics can influence young people in a negative way

Do you think MTV has a negative influence on teenagers

Do you think Spuds MacKenzie promotes underage drinking

Do you think a mile and a half is too far for kids to walk to the bus stop? Should students be picked up right in front of their homes

Do you think kid's toys are safe enough

Do you think music videos have a negative or positive impact on children

Do you think that underachieving cartoon character Bart Simpson is a bad influence on American children

Do you think the government should become more involved in health care for children of the underemployed

How do you feel about laws requiring minors to get parental consent before ending a pregnancy

How much say should parents have over their older children's lives

Parents: What do your kids do that irritates you the most

Recently we've heard about former child stars getting in trouble with the law. If your child had the chance for a hollywood career, would you encourage it

Should the names of juveniel offenders be released

Shouls Pittsburgh have a 10:00 curfew for kids seventeen and under

Some kids in Lenabon, PA were discovered running a make-believe drug ring. Who do you think most influences kids to try drugs

Teenagers, are you going to work this summer

Teenagers: should contraceptives be readily available in high school health clinics

Teenagers: what's your career objective after high school

What are the main problems affecting young people today

What do you think about the controversy surrounding the Mel Blount Youth Home

What do you think is our biggest responsibility to the children who will become our future

What do you think the penalty should be for minors caught drinking and driving

What is a realistic curfew for a young person

What's one piece of advise you'd give to young people today

---

Certificate of Service

I, Richard Massie, a secretary in the law firm of Koteen & Naftalin, hereby certify that I have this date sent copies of the foregoing to the following by First Class United States Mail, postage prepaid:

*Honorable Edward Luton
Administrative Law Judge
Federal Communications Commission
Room 225
2000 L Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

*Paullette Y. Laden, Esq.
*Robert Zauner, Esq.
Hearing Branch
Federal Communications Commission
Room 7212
2025 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20554

Morton L. Berfield, Esq.
John J. Schauble, Esq.
Cohen & Berfield
1129 20th Street, N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20036

* By hand

/s/ Richard Massie
Richard Massie

January 14, 1994

Certificate of Service

I, Richard Massie, a secretary in the law firm of Koteen & Naftalin, hereby certify that I have this date sent copies of the foregoing to the following by First Class United States Mail, postage prepaid:

*Honorable Edward Luton
Administrative Law Judge
Federal Communications Commission
Room 225
2000 L Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

*Paullette Y. Laden, Esq.
*Robert Zauner, Esq.
Hearing Branch
Federal Communications Commission
Room 7212
2025 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20554

Morton L. Berfield, Esq.
John J. Schauble, Esq.
Cohen & Berfield
1129 20th Street, N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20036

* By hand

/s/
Richard Massie
Richard Massie

January 14, 1994